JENNIE TROUT 1841-1921

Jennie Trout, immigrated from Scotland to Canada in 1847 with her parents and settled near Stratford, Ontario. As an adult she attended the Toronto School of Medicine where she was a victim of discrimination as no medical school in Canada would accept women students. She went on to study medicine at the Pennsylvania Women's Medical College in Philadelphia. In 1875 she passed her Ontario registration exam and became one of the first licensed female physicians in Canada.

Born April 21, 1841 - Kelso, Scotland
Died November 10, 1921 - California
