

ASK A LIBRARIAN FEATURED

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

August 17, 2020

Question: Other than their shape, is there a difference in the composition of waffles versus pancakes?

Response: Primarily, waffle batter contains a higher percentage of sugar (for caramelization) than pancake, as well as including a bit more fat (for a crisp exterior) than pancake.

Here is an excellent article outlining the differences between the two.

